Waterfront Living

Cottage Succession Seminar Series:

Join FOCA and lawyer Peter Lillico at one of our in-person events this summer:

- Saturday, July 9th with the Cavendish Community Ratepayers Association (Kawarthas)
- Sunday, August 14th with the Lake Networking Group (Eastern Ontario)
- Sunday, August 21st with the Salerno Devil's Lake Cottagers' Association (Haliburton)

The topic of these sessions is "Cottage Sharing Agreements," a critical part of the process, whether your cottage changes hands this year or later. Learn about the pitfalls, and how to set your family up for success. Lillico explains:

"The single most important step a parent can take is to ensure that a Cottage Sharing Agreement is developed during their lifetimes with the children as part of the overall cottage succession plan. It is not lack of interest, capital gains tax or other financial pressures that result in most family cottages going up for sale; it is a consequence of friction within the family that arises from sharing ownership and usage."

These events are FREE to FOCA Members or $10 at the door for non-members. Register now to receive location details and to secure your spot: info@foca.on.ca 705-749-3622

Profiling Conservation Leaders

Partner Profile: Ontario Land Trust Alliance

FOCA has a long-standing commitment to supporting the stewardship of private lands, to ensure our waterfronts remain healthy, thriving and enjoyable places to live. One option for leaving a lasting environmental legacy includes the use of property easements or other legal tools to ensure the property you treasure is managed and maintained in perpetuity, through a Land Trust.

For our American friends with cottages in Ontario:

In early June, FOCA met up with the American Friends of Canadian Land Trusts (AF) to discuss the connection between conservation and cottage succession planning for American owners of property in Ontario's cottage country.

AF helps U.S. taxpayers learn about and address the challenges of Canadian capital gains, and explore how they can create a conservation strategy for their lands that will meet their financial goals.

Get info, including links to AF, here:

Hello Americans! Did you know you are (or will be) a Canadian taxpayer?

Our partners say that many aging landowners are trying to determine to whom they should give their cherished lakefront, island or retreat, and how. Unfortunately, Americans are often making estate plans without realizing there will be Canadian tax liabilities that could force their heirs to sell land they love in order to raise money.

The events hosted by Rainy Lake Conservancy, Thousand Islands Watershed Land Trust and Georgian Bay Land Trust attracted a total of nearly 60 people eager to protect their properties, and pass them to the next generation. Each of the events featured a Canadian

2016 Project: Assessing Effects of Multiple Stressors on Inland Lakes

In collaboration with our science partners at MOECC and MNR, FOCA is working with the Melles Lab in the Department of Chemistry and Biology at Ryerson University on a pilot project to develop land-based predictors of multiple stressors for Ontario's inland lakes. This geospatial database will ultimately provide FOCA members with a way to visualize and assess their lake's water quality in relation to other lakes in the Province. This project is being supported in part through Mitacs, a national, non-for-profit organization that works with graduate students and postdoctoral fellows from over 50 universities to apply their specialized expertise to applied research challenges.
